Against Enclosure: The Commonsman Fight Back / Climate

The agrarian society, or agricultural society, is any community whose economy is based on producing and maintaining crops and livestock. Another way to define an agrarian society is by seeing how much of a nation’s total production is in agriculture. In an agrarian society, cultivating the land is the primary source of wealth. Such a society may acknowledge other means of production, such as handicrafts or trade, but agriculture is the primary economic activity. The concept of an agrarian society is often applied to societies that are primarily agricultural, as opposed to industrial or post-industrial societies.
